

KRYSTELLE LENTFER

Wikipedia the free encyclopaedia

Krystelle Lentfer (born 3/7/2003 Grafton) is an Australian pro surfer that was famous for surfing at Bells Beach. Krystelle won 2 Roxy titles, 1 Quicksilver title and the short board skull candy junior championships and has been on the pro circuit 16 times. Most recently, she was sponsored by Roxy but over the years she has been sponsored by Quicksilver and Ripcurl.

Young Life

Krystelle's career started when she stood up on her first board with the help of her uncle. In 2008 she came across another surfer who called her a natural. Krystelle loved it and began entering competitions. She won her first competition at Byron Bay Skull Candy Junior Championships.

Relationships

Krystelle is engaged to Mathew Johnson, vet and pro surfer, and they have been together for 1 year. She met him on a holiday in Thailand. Her recent relationship was with Ryan Miles, a famous footballer. Krystelle's first child was with Ryan Miles, a boy named Josh Miles and her second child is with Mathew Johnson, a girl named Alannah Johnson.